Exciting NEW Programmes for 2023

*Science fun with forces • Outdoor activities
Geography field work • History brought to life for Christmas*

Happy New Year!

All of us at Hooke Court are very excited about the year ahead after a very successful year in 2022.

Those of you who have stayed with us in the past will notice the improvements we have made to the Court – new carpets, decoration and new bathrooms in some of the en suite bedrooms.

We have also developed our history programmes to extend the number of activities for each era of history we teach and have some new and exciting activities planned for 2023.

New Programmes for 2023

All our programmes are delivered by our highly experienced and qualified tutors who revel in sharing their enthusiasm and knowledge with the visiting children.

Science fun with forces

An investigation of air and water resistance, energy changes and transfer as well as levers and balance through fun activities, all based outside and all totally related to the Science curriculum.

Water rockets – consider the energy transfer and resistance at work whilst firing a water rocket at a target.

Water slide – investigate the effect of liquid on friction whilst sliding down the slide using various lubricants.

Boulders – make and use large levers to move the boulders.

Drag races – run relay races with various materials to consider the effect of air resistance.

See saw challenge – working in teams, the children balance on a pivoted beam.

Tug of war – use the rope to try and balance the forces against one another.

Outdoor activities

Following on from our already very popular activities such as archery, kayaking and raft building, we are developing a specific range for activities such as archery and shooting. Frisbee golf will also be added to our selection of activities, perfect for summer evenings.

Geography field work programme

Our experienced geography teachers have developed a whole new programme of activities which aim to develop children's field work techniques, skills of enquiry, comparison and reporting. Resources ranging from ranging poles, quadrats to computers, interactive screens, weather station and digi maps will all be used to enhance learning and understanding.

History brought to life for Christmas

Spend two days at Hooke Court and live as a Viking, Victorian or Tudor child at Christmas. Take part in activities traditional for the period and time of year including opening presents on 'Christmas Morning'.

“The staff were extremely supportive - from management through to kitchen. Tutors were very good with the children and extremely calm.”

“A beautiful, idyllic spot with caring, calm staff with a flexible approach. We could not have been looked after any better.”

Hooke Court Residential Study Centre is based in Hooke, West Dorset and provides fantastic learning environments and offers inspirational activities designed to enhance curriculum learning.

- Open all year.
- Grade II listed 14th Century Manor House.
- Facilities include Saxon Long House, Iron Age Round House, Anderson Shelter, WW1 Trench, Victorian and Tudor Rooms and much more...
- Twenty-four acres of landscaped grounds and woodlands.
- Camping facilities in the summer months.
- Every group is allocated their own time for dining as well as an indoor and outdoor area for their personal use.
